New! Auto Renewals
As of this month, your eligible checkouts will renew automatically before their due date. Look for an email notice the day before your item is due. Items that are not eligible for auto renewal are materials that have a hold on them, express items or items that have already been renewed twice.

From the President’s Desk
We have been looking at ways to make it simpler to use the Library. We started last year by adding several fine forgiveness weeks and found that many of you not only returned books but started to use the Library again. Which led us to ask how we can prevent fines in the first place. Our first attempt at fine prevention begins this month.

All physical items checked out on your card will be automatically renewed. If your life is hectic and you can’t get to one of our locations—don’t worry! Those items will renew automatically and you will receive an email with the new due date. (We won’t be able to renew an item if someone is waiting for it, or if it is from our Express Collection.) Does this mean you can keep a book for a year? Well no. Items still can only be renewed two times. After your second renewal, you will receive emails telling you that your item is due soon, is due now, or is overdue. We hope this new feature makes your life a little easier.
